

Product Vision for a Counselor-Assistance Program

FOR counselors and mental health professionals WHO need a way to streamline client treatment, MentAssist is a tool THAT increases the efficiency of scheduling appointments and developing treatment programs.

UNLIKE other electronic tools, like traditional filing tools, MentAssist automates more of the treatment development process. OUR product allows counselors to curate resources appropriately.

The target consumers are mental health practices, as this product will, for a low cost, greatly reduce time spent on personalizing patient treatments.
